Subject: RE: OTR Media Group, Inc. - Ed Arrigoni

On behalf of Mr. Arrigoni, and as previously stated in Edward Saviano's letter dated September 27, 2013, the subpoena to Mr. Arrigoni was ineffectively served and thus is without effect. Accordingly, we are not prepared to predicate cancellation of the deposition referred to in an improperly served subpoena on our client's agreement to sign a declaration that you have drafted. In short, the deposition referred to in your subpoena will not go forward due to ineffective service (without prejudice to any other objections).

Without limiting the foregoing, we will review the proposed declaration and let you know if our client would be prepared to sign it, provided, of course, that if he does so, it shall be in lieu of any deposition in this proceeding. This email is without prejudice to or waiver of all rights, all of which are fully reserved.

Subject: OTR Media Group, Inc. - Ed Arrigoni

Mr. Watnick:

OTR Media Group consents to a short adjournment of Mr. Arrigoni's October 9, 2013 deposition to October 17, 2013, in contemplation of Mr. Arrigoni signing the attached declaration. Please review the declaration with your client. If you have revisions, I am happy to discuss them.

Provided that Mr. Arrigoni signs and returns the declaration on or before October 16, 2013, we agree to cancel his deposition.

I await your prompt response. Thank you. sds
